

About QII

QII is an Infratech Intelligence™ company built for the AI economy, developing land and energy infrastructure to support AI factories, next-generation advanced manufacturing, and other energy-intensive operations. Through its Option-Preserving Platform™, QII integrates land strategy, power readiness, and project execution under a single operating approach, helping projects move early while preserving flexibility as requirements are defined. Founded by Quality Growth Companies, QII brings together experienced teams and trusted partners to deliver complex projects with safety, speed, and certainty.

For more information, visit qii.com.